Special to The Washington Herald. Philadelphia, Sept. 12.-Individual fielding of phenomeral merit redeemed an otherwise listless and uninteresting contest at Shibe Park to-day. The Athletics defeated Washington, 6 to 0, in a light hitting game, all three pitchers doing good work. Coombs excelled and really twirled a superior game. Neither Reisling nor Otey was hit hard, but the Nationals' errors made the White Elephants' victory very easy. Collins and Baker were the stars. Collins made one of the greatest stops and throws ever seen at Shibe Park. It was a marvelous effort. Gessler was the first man to bat in the seventh inning. all stages, and Washington was at the mercy of his curves. Four hits, two being scraiches, were all the Nationals accumulated off the iron pitcher. Only one National reached third, and not a man trespassed farther than first until the ninth inning, when Coombs hit McBride, which forced Ralston to vacate first. Otey succeeded Reisling in the fifth and did not pitch a bad game. Coombs did not seem to exert himself, yet he let Washington down with four hits, two of which were scratches. With proper support Reisling would not have allowed the Athletics to score in the third. A wild throw and fumble came with two singles, and this combination did the damage.

The contest was ragged in spots, but thrillers, and last night the streets were filled with local printers hardly able to talk above a whisper.

During the early stages of the battle it ooked like the Quaker City lads would sweep the home team off the baseball map. A left-handed flinger named Lang was putting something on the ball our boys could not hit. When the Columbia team went to bat in the sixth the score Pitts stood 6 to 2 in favor of the visitors. BECKENDORF RELEASED.

Gabby Street to Finish Out Season with Nationals.

Catcher Helnie Beckendorf of the Naionals, has been cut loose by Manager McAleer and Gabby Street will be recalled. It is hinted that Beckendorf was not giving the club his best services, and frequent outbursts of temper by that young man did not help his cause to any great extent. Street and Ainsmith should be able to finish out the season in good shape. Gabby is in cond'tion and really anxious to Tech, Central, and Business Candidates Out for Practice. Technical, Central, and Business High chools started the 1910 football season rolling yesterday, when good-sized squads reported at each of these schools. Little was attempted in the nature of practice. The coaches discussed the new rules with their charges, and mapped out campaigns for the coming season Business will suffer heavily on account of flunks. It is the intention of the coach this year not to permit any boy to practice with the squad until he is in good standing with his teachers.

Central on form has the best championship prospects, with Tech next. Eastern and Western will do nothing until the high schools open next Monday.
